

PRIVATE MUSIC INSTRUCTION IN YOUR HOME

Vincent Reina faced a dilemma in 2003 – he found himself turning away students wanting private piano lessons due to his full schedule. That’s when the idea for Music To Your Home, Inc. came to him. His plan? Contact the area’s most talented musicians and teachers and give them the work he was turning away.

Since its inception in 2003, Music To Your Home, Inc. has been catering to Manhattan’s elite by sending the most preeminent music teachers directly to their homes. www.musictoyourhome.com offers a potential client the opportunity to view teachers’ resumes, biographies and photos. Reina says, “It’s impressive, we are so thrilled to have these caliber of musicians attached to the Music To Your Home, Inc. name. Our instructors have amazing musical backgrounds, from Juilliard & Manhattan School of Music graduates, to the New England Conservatory of Music, their resumes are extraordinary.” Besides their impressive educations, many of MTYH’s teachers have performed on some of the world’s most famous stages, and have added their musical talents to many radio and television productions.

Music To Your Home, Inc. hand-picks its instructors. “All of our teachers have a degree or are working towards a degree in music,” says Reina, himself a SUNY Purchase Conservatory performance major. Vincent received his masters of teaching from Manhattanville College, and has set a high standard of excellence for the teachers he contracts. “I like getting to know our teachers. We keep in daily contact with them, we’ve heard them play, we know when we send them to a client’s home, that student is going to be offered an extremely rewarding experience.”

The teaching repertoire is diverse. Since MTYH’s instructors have varied musical backgrounds, the staff is able to match students up with the appropriate genre the client is looking to learn. Parents have called saying “my son loves to rock. He really just wants to play The Beatles or Billy Joel.” Or, “I want my child to take the classical route of learning” – whatever type of music a student is passionate about, Music To Your Home, Inc. can accommodate.

So what sets Music To Your Home, Inc. apart from the other options in Manhattan? Simply stated, A Music To Your Home, Inc. client can study almost any instrument, in the comfort of their own home. “Clients stay with us because they like the convenience of a musically educated teacher traveling to them, especially in Manhattan,” says Reina. Music To Your Home, Inc. offers private piano, voice, guitar, drums, violin, viola, cello, bass, flute, clarinet, bassoon, oboe, French horn, trumpet and saxophone lessons in your home.
